LAMBS FARM TO HOST HARVESTING THE SPIRIT 2015 BENEFIT AT CHICAGO'S HISTORIC UNION STATION

More than 300 Guests Expected to Attend Annual Fundraiser – Proceeds Benefit Exemplary Programs for Adults with Developmental Disabilities

Libertyville, IL- Lambs Farm, a place where men and women with developmental disabilities live, work and enjoy recreational and social programs, will once again bring some “country charm to the big city” on Saturday, November 7, 2015.

Held in the historic Grand Hall at Union Station, the evening will feature delectable hors d’oeuvres, a gourmet dinner, a live and silent auction and dancing to The Gold Coast Orchestra and much more – all with a country twist.

Reservations are $350 each. Sponsorships at various levels are still available, many of which come with complimentary seating, recognition in the event program, signage, and event collateral.

“Now more than ever Lambs Farm needs the revenue to continue to provide quality programs that enrich the lives of our Participants,” said President & CEO Dianne Yaconetti. “Since many services at Lambs Farm do not receive government support, we depend on events like Harvesting the Spirit to ensure that the extraordinary men and women we serve have the resources needed to live productive, meaningful and happy lives,” she added.

For more information, contact Joanie Bayhack at 847-990-3733 or jbayhack@lambsfarm.org or visit the website at www.lambsfarm.org. Guests can register online.
