

Educators Who Wish to Hatch Out Chicks or Ducklings

The Farmyard receives phone calls about taking in chicks, ducklings and adult birds on nearly a daily basis

This year, the Farmyard will only accept chicks and ducklings that have been previously discussed and confirmed with the manager or assistant manager before purchasing and hatching. We will only accept the varieties and quantities listed below. Also listed are hatcheries where you may purchase eggs and the quantities that they are sold in that we are willing to accept. We have split some varieties into two separate hatchings so more classrooms can participate.

Before making any purchases, please contact Stephanie Polson (Farmyard Manager) at spolson@lambsfarm.org or Jodi Miller (Farmyard Assistant Manager) at jmiller@lambsfarm.org to discuss and confirm your hatching. Lines in GREEN are still available. Lines in RED have been reserved by a classroom.

Website	Breed/Species	Limit
McMurrayHatchery.com	Muscovy Duck	12
McMurrayHatchery.com	Guinea Fowl	12
McMurrayHatchery.com	Guinea Fowl	12
mypetchicken.com	Hatching Eggs Education Variety	12
mypetchicken.com	Hatching Eggs Education Variety	12
strombergschickens.com	Buff Orpington Chickens	14
strombergschickens.com	Buff Orpington Chickens	14
strombergschickens.com	Coturnix Quail	24
strombergschickens.com	Texas A&M Quail	14
strombergschickens.com	Blonde Coturnix Quail	24

